

What is canstruction®?

AIA VT's Canstruction® combines the competitive spirit of a design/build competition with a unique way to help feed hungry people. Competing teams, led by architects and members of the design field showcase their talents by designing giant sculptures made entirely out of canned foods. At the close of the exhibition all the food used in the structures is donated to the Vermont Food Bank.

AIA VT will host the second annual Vermont Canstruction

November 3–5, 2006
at University Mall in South Burlington VT

On November 3rd, movers will deliver truckloads of canned food to University Mall. Teams will have the afternoon and evening to create their structures. On Sat., November 4th at 9:00AM the public will be invited to view the exhibits and vote for their favorite Canstruction. The Jury will vote during the afternoon. Six awards will be given. The Awards Ceremony will begin at 6:00PM.

Canstruction is a trademark charity event of the Society of Design Administration. The Burlington, Vermont Competition is produced in association with the American Institute of Architects and AIAVT.
